IOWA SCHOOL JOURNAL,
FOR 1873.

WHAT OTHERS SAY ABOUT IT.

"Of the various educational journals, the Iowa School Journal shows, perhaps, the most noticeable improvement in editorial conduct. It has passed into good hands."—HON. E. E. WHITE, in National Teacher, for December.

"I miss heartily coming to it to every teacher in Iowa who desires to improve in his profession, and elevate the standard of school efficiency in the State."—ALONZO ABERNETHY, Superintendent Public Instruction.

"Under its present management the Journal has made great improvement."—Des Moines Daily Republican.

"I am much pleased with it."—S. N. FELLOWS, Iowa State University.

"One of the most valuable Magazines issued in the West."—Davenport Gazette.

"Under the new regime it is assuming a character worthy of the State of Iowa."—Republican and Globe.

WHAT OUGHT TO BE DONE ABOUT IT.

If the JOURNAL is worth one-half what others say it is—involving zealously to promote the interests of education in our own State; taking up the home questions of to-day, and with that recognized and indispensable power of the press, seeking to mould public opinion to the favor of progress in educational matters, and thus bringing into proper appreciation the untiring labors of the teacher in the school room—it should be, before the close of 1873, a monthly visitor to the desk of every teacher in the State.

Let every one who sees this, and who is not already a subscriber, see to it that an immediate remittance of $1.50 secure for him the Iowa School Journal for one year.

PREFACE.

In presenting this our second volume to its patrons and the public, it is the hope of the publishers that it may prove to be the valuable book of reference for which it is designed. We have no doubt that our efforts to compile the most complete and reliable Directory ever offered to the citizens of Des Moines, will be fully appreciated by those who have the best interests of our city at heart. In the census report embodied in the work will be found a new and distinct feature, which we trust will be of great value and interest to our citizens; the result of incessant labor to render it as accurate in its statistical and enumerative tables as it is possible to make a compilation of its character and design. The enumeration we have made, proves conclusively that Des Moines, in point of population is a city of the first class.

The compiler congratulates his fellow citizens that while we have a city which for beauty of situation is scarcely rivaled in our glorious commonwealth, it presents advantages in all its great industrial aspects excelled by none, and in the energy, thrift, moral status, and intellectual character of its people cherishes a just and laudable pride.

Since our last publication, the number of business houses erected shows a large acquisition to the wealth of Des Moines. Our city is advancing. Let there not be one to undervalue its importance or ignore its well-grounded hopes of future prosperity and greatness.

Thanks to all who have in any way encouraged the enterprise.

CITY OF DES MOINES.

When we compare our city of to-day with the Des Moines which we first saw a few years ago, we see many great improvements and substantial marks of progress.

Few cities in the west can make an exhibit of more actual progress than Des Moines. Most of the wealth here represented was accumulated right here in Des Moines by earnest toil.

We may say that we believe there is not a city in the State, of the same population with the same number of fine residences and business houses, and where the society is as good.

The city that should attract most the capital and enterprise of the east is Des Moines, the Capital of the State, situated at the junction of the Des Moines and Raccoon rivers, and occupying a sort of amphitheatre, the bluffs arising by gentle acclivities on all sides, affording fine residence sites, while the level portion is large enough to accommodate the business of a large city.

In area Des Moines includes about twelve square miles, all suitable and laid out for building purposes. The city is improving rapidly, both in the erection of handsome and comfortable dwellings, and imposing and beautiful business blocks.

The Des Moines river, which flows through the heart of the city, is spanned by four bridges six hundred feet in length, two of which are iron, while the 'Coon has also two bridges, affording to South Des Moines and the rich prairie beyond, easy communication with the various parts of the city.

On the 22d day of September, 1851, the citizens of Fort Des Moines voted to have it incorporated as a town, and articles of incorporation were adopted by the people on the 18th of October, 1851.

In 1853, by act of the Legislature, Des Moines was incorporated as a town. At this time the town had increased to such importance that attention was turned to it as the Capital of the State. Its central geographical location at once induced the sanction of the people of the State, and in 1854 an act was passed by the Legislature designating Des Moines as the Capital of the State. A subsequent convention to revise and amend the State Constitution permanently fixed the Capital at this place.

In 1857 a successful movement was made to incorporate the city of Des Moines. An act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature, and approved by James W. Grimes, Governor, January 28, 1857.

The main part of the business is at present done on the west side of the river, but is rapidly reaching over the river, as there is a magnificent country east of the city.

The surrounding country is abundantly supplied with streams of the purest water, upon the banks of which streams are found plenty of different kinds of timber.

What facilities, it is asked, has Des Moines, either natural or acquired, for becoming the commercial centre?

The growth of Des Moines has been very rapid since the advent and opening of the railroads.

Unlike the Iowa cities on the Mississippi and Missouri, which are numerous, Des Moines has no rival. This will allow Des Moines to make a far greater growth than it could otherwise hope to obtain. Please take a glance at the map, and think of the prospective roads whose termini will be Des Moines; and that the roads east, west, north and south, are extending their arms for their share of the merchandise and freight which must come here.

Are not all the roads looking to a connection with the great continental thoroughfare? What does this indicate, but that Des Moines is fast becoming a railroad center?

One of the great advantages which Des Moines claims is, that it is backed by a farming country which can scarcely be excelled.

In view of the large mechanical population which will be brought here in the construction of railroads, the establishing of manufactories, and other works, we know of no place on the American continent which presents better opportunities for the investment of capital, or which promises a more enduring prosperity.

For the Western trade, what town so favorably situated? With the before-named advantages to make it the market for the West, and insuring it cheap transportation from the East, it could not be better situated in reference to this trade. Indeed, the start already made in this direction is some indication of what may be expected in the future; and who knows but what Des Moines is to be the great commercial as well as railroad centre of the West. It is no speculative idea to-day, as to the place where will be the great railroad center, for we have already many railroads converging here, within the corporation. We need only think of the rapid growth of our city to know that before long it will be the metropolis of the northwest.

MANUFACTURING.

It will only be necessary to let the superior natural advantages of Des Moines for manufacturing be known, to secure to this city a large proportion of the immigration from the East. We can see that there are untold and undeveloped markets for manufactured products north, south, east and west of Des Moines, millions of

NEW RAILROADS.

The Albia, Knoxville & Des Moines Railroad—Designed to extend the line of the North Missouri Railroad to Des Moines.

This projected road, now giving evidence of an early construction, is one of the most important interests affecting this city. Traversing in almost its entire length, a region vastly rich in coal, and abounding in timber for mechanical and building purposes in exhaustless quantities, and opening up to this city direct communication with the entire Southern country, and a rival route eastward; it cannot be long, if proper aid is secured, before the products of this region will be pouring into the lap of our city, and in exchange, everything in the mercantile line and mechanical products, which can be amply and cheaply furnished here, will be returned to the denizens of this and the regions beyond.

Des Moines & McGregor (narrow gauge) is now completed and operated a considerable distance, and it is believed will be completed to Des Moines within twelve months. This road has an importance to Des Moines which will be readily understood by reference to the important improvements now in active progress, and to be pushed forward to early completion. May it come to our city soon; we believe it to be an important route.

Des Moines Western (narrow gauge), on which a considerable amount of grading has been done the past season, will strike the Missouri river at Sioux City, and cross an undeveloped prairie country, susceptible of an untold wealth of agriculture, by this road made tributary to Des Moines, making it an important line to our city. It is said to be surveyed through an excellent portion of our State.

Des Moines & Ames Railroad.—The subsidies available are eight thousand acres of Polk county lands, worth sixty thousand dollars—taxes voted along the line, sixty-eight thousand dollars, and engineering, right of way and grading, fifty-five thousand dollars, there being eighteen miles of it with the grade nearly complete, needing only surface grading to make it ready for the ties to connect Des Moines with the Northwestern at Ames, being one link in the Iowa & Minnesota Railroad.

HOME INSURANCE COMPANIES.

The Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa, is one of the good institutions of our city, as what money is collected by them is kept at home and loaned out among its policy holders.

The insurance laws of Iowa are as good as in any State, as they make the policy holders perfectly secure. The Equitable of Iowa is doing a good business, and have many of the best men, not only as policy holders, but as agents at work in different parts taking none but first-class risks. Policies issued on all approved forms of insurance at reasonable rates, non-forfeitable, with annual dividends.

The Hawkeye Insurance Company may well be regarded as one of the leading institutions of the city. Its dealings with patrons has been characterized with fairness and liberality, and its transactions conducted on strictly commercial principles—cautious in the selection of its risks, and prompt in the adjustment and payment of its losses. Its principal office is in the Company's building at 99 Fourth street—and has agencies in almost every county in the State. See Company's card.

The State Insurance Company.—It is a home institution, affording as good security to policy holders as the largest company in the world. It does not risk more than 2½ per cent of its capital subject to any one fire. It does not assume risks on any steam works or other special hazardous property. The experience of the last year shows that companies which do not do business in large cities are the safest. Patronize worthy home institutions, and keep your money in the west where it is needed.

UNITED STATES COURT HOUSE AND POST OFFICE.

In July, 1867, was begun on the north-east corner of Fifth street and Court Avenue, in this city, by the United States Government, a building for the use of the Post Office, U. S. Courts, and all U. S. officers resident here. That building is now completed and occupied by all entitled to offices in it.

The building in all its parts is really a magnificent work, an ornament to Des Moines, and a credit to the United States Government.

Postmasters.—J. S. Clarkson, P. M.; John Beckwith, Assistant P. M.

East Side Post Office—A. L. F. Mower, Deputy P. M., 5th and Walnut.

COLLEGES AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

There are at present five large public school houses, a very fine Baptist College, besides many other select schools.

The city of Des Moines is divided into two independent school districts.

Four large and beautiful brick edifices are the monuments dedicated to the cause of education by a young city of moderate population, which reflect the highest civilization, generosity, and sterling enterprise of its leading and wealthy citizens.

The University of Des Moines, is situated on a gentle elevation in the northwest part of the city. It is a four-story brick building, and is surrounded by five acres of land. The college grounds, overlooking the city, are sufficiently far from the noise of the public streets to combine quiet and accessibility.

Instructors.—J. A. Nash, A. M., Acting President; Florence M. Davis, A. M., Lida Scott, C. M. Greene, teachers in normal department, M. Gibney, teacher of elocution, W. H. Dickinson, M. D., lecturer on Anatomy and Physiology.

THE IOWA POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL.

The above named school is one of the good institutions of our city. A school of natural, mathematical, and mechanical science, modern languages, and English literature. Open to both sexes.

For full particulars, address Frederick William Corliss, M. A., President.

Iowa State Musical Institute.—This institution affords a rare opportunity to persons wishing to acquire a thorough musical education, practical and theoretical, both to amateurs and those who intend to fit themselves for the profession, either as artists or teachers. A definite system of teaching will be pursued in every department, so that pupils shall be enabled to intelligently direct their efforts, and thus secure more rapid and positive results as a reward for their labors.

For the benefit of those engaged in public school teaching, and others who wish to avail themselves of the advantages of a session of normal training, for the term of six weeks during the summer vacations, each year such a school will be organized.

Daily recitations and instructions given in each study of the course to all regular pupils in any department of the school. The expense and time required to obtain an education in this school is less than is usually required to learn to merely play an instrument.
